Details

What people knew in the past, today's companies know even better in the face of increasing competition - advertising is essential, to survive in the market. Even if it may often sound like it - good marketing is not witchcraft. It's like darts. Every company in this world has the opportunity to reach the center of the market through targeted advertising efforts. The 50 marketing strategies presented in this book are probably the most widely used and significant in modern business - together we embark on an expedition through the marketing jungle that will finally bring some clarity to all the methods and practices out there. Are you ready to go? □ 50 profitable and efficient marketing strategies □ Each idea with graphic illustration of the structure □ Includes templates for notes and your own tactics □ Total book length 250 pages
